

Funding Options Journals

Status: 17.10.2023

It is not always possible to establish and expand academic journals on the basis of existing resources. In the following, you will find funding opportunities for which you can apply. TUM.University Press will be pleased to support you in obtaining additional funding.

1. DFG: Funding Programme „Infrastructures for Scholarly Publishing”

The “Infrastructures for Scholarly Publishing” funding program supports academic publishing in the process of digital transformation. Funding is available for digital journals in the following cases:

- Cooperation projects between infrastructure providers and scientists (TUM.UP would be happy to develop a cooperation project together with you).
- Founding new journals
- Expansion and digitization of existing journals

Detailed information at: DFG - German Research Foundation - Funding Program "Infrastructures for Scientific Publishing".

Application deadline: continuous application possible

Find detailed information at: DFG Funding Programme „Infrastructures for Scholarly Publishing”

2. KOALA

KOALA is a project funded by the BMBF (Federal Ministry of Education and Research) to establish consortial solutions for the funding of Open Access. Applications are invited from existing journals seeking collaborative funding in the KOALA project. Funding is available for:

- Existing journals whose thematic focus fits the respective call for proposals.

Application deadline: varies, see website.

Find detailed information at: Project KOALA

