The focus of this year’s St. Gallen Consensus Conference was on providing substantial and largely evidence-based recommendations for the treatment of early breast cancer, indicating a broad spectrum of acceptable clinical practice. This report summarises the results of the 2007 international panel voting procedures with regard to endocrine treatment, chemotherapy and antibody therapy.
licence (funded by the DFG, German Research Foundation) respectively.

Occurences:
- Kollektionen > Open Access Publikationen > 2007
- Kollektionen > Open Access Publikationen > Verlage > Karger

entries: